LOS ANGELES, CA – STEIGER DYNAMICS, award-winning manufacturer of custom Gaming Home Theater PCs, announced today the debut of the LEET™ Monochrome Limited Edition Gaming Home Theater PC to their Core and Reference lines.

Black and white interior components, such as radiators, Blue-Ray Drive, pump, fittings, and tubing, provide contrast and establish an incredibly unique aesthetic, which is showcased with an acrylic glass lid and highlighted by interior LED lighting, the color of which will be customer specified. Custom white sleeved power supply and SATA cables continue the interior theme, and provide a very clean and tailored look to the system. This contrasting interior makes the system not only distinctive and exclusive, but exceptionally attractive, providing customers a very unique setup. Additionally, customers who purchase a LEET™ Gaming Home Theater PC will also receive a complimentary copy of the latest NVIDIA bundle game. The LEET™ Monochrome Limited Edition is a free upgrade option for all Core and Reference line LEET HTPCs with custom liquid cooling and custom cabling.
