

STEIGER DYNAMICS announces the COUCHMASTER Basic lapdesk designed for wireless mouse and keyboard

LOS ANGELES, CA – STEIGER DYNAMICS, award-winning manufacturer of high-end Home Theater PCs, extends its line of living room lapdesks with the COUCHMASTER® Basic.

COUCHMASTER Basic, the most comfortable lapdesk for mouse and keyboard, brings the desktop PC experience to your living room. Designed for wireless peripherals, the COUCHMASTER Basic allows users to have a comfortable support for their input devices while working or gaming on their living room PC. Two side support cushions can be adjusted to be comfortable for any user and the crossboard provides a sturdy, light-weight surface for mouse and keyboard. Cushions and crossboard are entirely covered in a black faux leather finish. The COUCHMASTER Basic will be offered for $139 USD.

“After the Pro was so well received, we are excited to offer an additional COUCHMASTER product.” said Martin Gossner, CEO of STEIGER DYNAMICS. “Many of our customers are interested in a lower priced version designed for wireless input devices, which is why we are bringing the COUCHMASTER Basic to the Americas.”
